My good friend

This finds me in this city, as assistant Editor of the "Elevator," a copy of which I send you.

My object in writing you this letter is mainly this. For many years I have been trying to solve one difficult problem, how to prevent fire= damp and spontaneous — Combustion in Coal mines; in which I have succeeded. It is an important discovery, in so far as saving the periodical sacrifice of human lives.

I contemplate going to England and put my invention to the test of scientific scrutiny.
